

Castelfeder

SÜDTIROL • ALTO ADIGE

CHARDONNAY DOSS PINOT SELECTION

Name: Doss refers to a small hill around the village of Cortina s.s.d. Vino which was often under water and therefore often called “Little Venice”. This hill – which was formed by these floods – is one of the most important areas for Chardonnay and Pinot Grigio in the Bassa Atesina region. In contrast to the rest of the region and due to the soil structure, the area is almost exclusively planted with vines instead of apple trees.

Label: The label shows one of the oldest vines in South Tyrol, which were traditionally planted for important occasions. This vine is about 270 years old and is located right next to our Chardonnay vineyards.

Alto Adige DOC

Selected vineyards in the Bassa Atesina region

Guyot

Sandy limestone gravel

Manual harvest, gentle pressing, fermentation in stainless steel, maturation on the yeast for 6 months

Aperitif, cold starters, delicately spiced dishes

Straw yellow colour with greenish reflections, long-lasting notes of apples and yellow fruits, complex structure, juicy, smooth, well-balanced acidity, crisp elegance